Auditions Saturday! Search For Local "Annie" Continues

For many Grayling area girls between grades 2 and 8, this Saturday, March 10, is a really big day. That is the day that auditions will be held for the roles of Annie and the six orphan girls for the production of the Broadway Musical "Annie" to be presented by the Grayling High School Players in May. Auditions will begin at 10 a.m. Saturday with all girls whose last name beginning with A through H auditioning at that time. Girls with names beginning with I through P will audition at 1 p.m., and those with names beginning with Q through Z will audition at 3 p.m. All call-backs will be held at 7 p.m. with auditions being completed and the roles announced by 9:30 p.m.

Girls in the Grayling Elementary School and the Frederic Elementary school will receive their applications to audition from the music teacher Mrs. Emerick. Girls attending the Grayling Middle School may pick up their applications from the main office. Applications are to be completely filled out and brought to the audition. Girls who will be auditioning Saturday will receive the required music when they pick up their application.

Wine Taken In Burglary

Warrants are being issued for four suspects in a breaking and entering at the Whispering Pines Store in Lovells. Approximately $50 in assorted wines were taken and about $100 in damages were reported. Entry was gained by breaking a window in the store, a Crawford County Sheriff Dept. report said. The burglary occurred late Saturday, March 3, or early Sunday morning, March 4.

Supplemental Security Income Interviews Required In County

People in Crawford County who receive Supplemental Security Income (SSI) checks may be contacted in the near future by a Social Security representative for a personal interview to review their case. The reviews are required by law to be sure the checks are being paid correctly.

Appointments for the reviews will be scheduled over the next few months. SSI recipients will be notified of their appointments by mail, and asked to bring information about their income, assets, and living arrangements when they meet with a representative. In some cases, documents such as bank books, rent receipts or utility bills may be requested.

It is important that people keep their appointments and provide the information needed to complete the review. SSI recipients are required to report any changes in their income or living arrangements as they occur. However, the personal reviews are needed even if there have been no changes.

A representative from Social Security is at the Courthouse in Grayling the first and third Tuesday of each month from 10:30 until 2:00. The telephone number for the Traverse City office is 616/946-8360.

LEAP YEAR SURPRISE — The birth rate at Grayling Mercy Hospital is on the rise, but even the nurses in the Obstetrics Department were somewhat surprised when three new arrivals picked February 29, leap year, to make their appearance. Born to Mr. and Mrs. Michael Johnson, of Grayling, was Terrance James (center), nine pounds, nine ounces; Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Niswander, of Houghton Lake, had a five pound, nine and one-half ounce baby girl named Hiedi Lynn (right); and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bollman, of Kalkaska, were blessed with an eight pound, eight and one-quarter ounce baby girl named Kimberly Susan (left). All three mothers came through the deliveries very well, however, it was an exhausting 24 hours for the stork - lucky for him February 29 only comes once every four years.

Vikes Win 69-67 On Road To Prepare for Districts

Paul Hamlin and Mike Hickey hit pressure free throws in the final minute to hold off St. Ignace 69-67 in Grayling's last regular season game.

The Vikings play Wednesday night at 6:30 against Houghton Lake and the winner will meet Roscommon Friday night in the finals.

Grayling tuned up for the tournament by winning their ninth close game of the year to finish 12-8 overall. The Vikings finished ahead of St. Ignace in the league, fourth overall at 8-6.

Head coach Butch Hayes said it was a good team win with everyone hustling.

Grayling went ahead early 16-12 after eight minutes before St. Ignace figured out a diamond-and-one defense the Vikings placed on Rob Flynn, the league's second leading scorer. St. Ignace then outscored Grayling 22-14 to take a 34-30 halftime lead.

In the third quarter, Grayling scored 19 points to only 11 for St. Ignace and nine of the points scored by the Saints came on three-point plays.

In the fourth quarter, Grayling led most of the way but never by more than five. St. Ignace had a chance to tie with four seconds left when Flynn shot and missed and another Saint player rebounded. The second shot went in and out of the basket before Grayling came up with the rebound.

Wayne Ross led Grayling with 17 points playing only half the game because of foul trouble. He fouled out with seven minutes left. Jim Stewart added 16, Rod Patterson 11, Jon Nicholas 10, Hickey 9, and Hamlin 6. Mick Lovely led the team with 11 rebounds, Patterson had 10, and Ross grabbed 8.

"Lovely and Patterson did an excellent job on the boards," Hayes said. "We out-rebounded them 41-34."

Grayling won the game at the free throw line throughout the game as they hit 25 of 38 outscoring St. Ignace who was 11 of 29 from the line.

A young J.V. team finished their year with a 66-40 loss. Hudson led Grayling with 9, Young had 8, Forkum 7, Klinger 6, McEvers 3, Casler 2, Whaley 2, Duncan 2, and Nielson 1.

Students Attend S.A.D.D. Conference

Driving while intoxicated is the number 1 killer of young men and women in the 16-24 year age group. Eight thousand young adults this age died last year as a result of drunk drivers.

In an effort to educate students about the dangers of drinking and driving, and to help young people become aware of alcohol problems at the local, state, and national levels, Students Against Driving Drunk (S.A.D.D.) was formed. On Feb. 21, the initial development of this program reached our area when Houghton Lake High School invited Grayling High School representatives to join in a S.A.D.D. program.

In the sophomore health classes at GHS substance abuse is studied and the issue has also been given attention by the GHS student council. Students from these two groups - sophomores Kathy Partin, Tim Stephan, Stacey Steele, Anna Kengal, and junior council member Michelle Barber - attended the S.A.D.D. program.

Among the speakers at the Houghton Lake program were Amos Fowler, from the Detroit Lions, and Dan Balla, from WJGS radio.

To supplement their attendance at the S.A.D.D. program, Tim Cliffman, who works with various educational and rehabilitational programs involving controlled substances, spoke with the health classes of instructors Mike Wieland, Butch Hayes, and Becky Brown on the same day.

The S.A.D.D. group has four major goals: to help eliminate drunk drivers and save lives, to alert high school students to the dangers of drinking and driving, to conduct community alcohol awareness programs, and to organize peer counseling programs to help students.

Ms. Brown, student council advisor, said the GHS council is interested in holding a similar program early next school year, emphasizing that the program is a positive response to a student concern - not an attempt to moralize.

Hard Winter Brings Out More Illegal Firewood Cutting

By Jon Thompson

Tickets for illegal cutting of firewood in Crawford County have increased this winter from last winter, according to DNR Conservation Officer Mark Lutz, who works out of the Grayling field office.

After last year's mild winter, some people didn't cut enough wood for this winter, Lutz said.

The DNR and U.S. Forest Service issues permits to cut on state and federal land but prohibits all cutting from Jan. 1 to April 1.

Lutz said the reason for the three-month ban on cutting is to help the average wood-cutter identify live and dead trees. Only dead trees may be cut and by April 1 most live trees will begin budding out.

"Unless someone works in the woods everyday, they would have a hard time identifying live and dead trees without buds or leaves on them," Lutz said.

Some commercial permits are issued throughout the county that allow year-round cutting, and Lutz said many violators are cutting near these areas to disguise their noise, letting citizens in the area believe the cutting is on the commercial area.

"Anytime a citizen hears a chainsaw on state land from Jan. 1 to April 1 they can call us to check it out," Lutz said.

Conservation officers have caught a lot of violators in four areas of the county where there aren't a lot of residents to report illegal cutting. The areas with heavy violators are Stephan Bridge Rd. north, Conner's Flats, Bald Hill, and the Seven Mile Rd. and Staley Lake Rd.

An early thaw gives the five DNR officers covering the three counties of Crawford, Kalkaska, and Missaukee trouble, because they don't have four-wheel drive vehicles like some violators to reach back areas. When there is deep snow, Lutz said, violators are usually easy to catch because they cut along roadsides and citizens call in information.

The DNR will again be issuing firewood permits for $10 beginning April 1. The permits are for five standard cords of hardwood (standard cords are eight feet by four feet by four feet high). Permits for five cords of softwoods will still be free. The firewood cut with this permit must be for house use and cannot be sold.

The average fine for cutting without a permit is $65 and a timber trespass violation can cost violators triple the damages caused.

County Switches To Own Micro-Computer System

Crawford County Commissioners approved buying a micro-computer system with software and training through Michigan State University's Cooperative Extension Service for $5,000.

The system will handle payroll, budgets and other data processing needs for the county. In 1983, the county spent about $12,500 to send their data processing out to another system.

Commissioner Bud Joyce said the system will not only save the county $7,000 for the first year, it will save time for the county employees. Currently county employees fill out sheets of information by hand to send to the data processing center.

Roy Spangler, Cooperative Extension Director for Crawford County, said depending on the availability of the Columbia micro-computer, the county could have their system operating by early summer. He said with any system there is going to be bugs to be worked out. Spangler said with their own system the county won't have long delays receiving information. Under the current system, a December, 1983, budget report was received late in February, 1984.

A number of Michigan's smaller counties asked MSU to develop a system to meet their needs, and Crawford will be able to purchase the system at a low price through a cooperative group purchase.

Commissioners voted 6-1 approving the purchase of the micro-computer system at their Feb. 23 regular meeting. Don Welser was the lone nay vote.

Grayling Customer Service Center Part of $10.2 Million In 1983 GTE Improvements

Amid preparations for the most massive change ever to confront the telephone industry, General Telephone continued to expand and improve telephone service to its customers in northern Michigan in 1983 at a cost of approximately $10.2 million, according to Bob Kowalski, northern division manager for the company.

While gearing up for deregulation of telecommunications on one hand, General Telephone, on the other hand, was busy upgrading its telephone service, Kowalski said.

Among the more noticeable changes General Telephone made in northern Michigan was to increase the number of locations customers can transact business with the company through the establishment of four Customer Service Agencies. Customer Service Agencies feature a booth where customers can pick-up and deposit telephones, use toll-free lines for service or billing questions, and make bill payments through associated on-site payment agencies. The new booths are located in Grayling, Bellaire, Gaylord, and Houghton Lake.

A number of Multiplexer Units (M.X.U.'s) were installed last year. These were placed in service in Alpena, Long Lake, Onaway, Rogers City, Roscommon, Pruden-ville, Gaylord, Garden, L'Anse, Cedarville, Pickford, and Detour.

MXU's are digital transmission systems which multiply the number of communications channels on a given line and allow more information or messages to be packed into a given space or time frame in those channels. The smallest component in the digital switching system family, MXU's are designed to serve sparsely populated areas of an exchange.

Automatic Number Identification (A.N.I.) service, which allows single-party customers to dial long distance numbers direct without operator assistance, were introduced in Roscommon and

From Our Corner...

We hope the adage is not true this year concerning March coming in like a lamb and going out like a lion...because lamb it was and really we have had enough winter and besides the last three weeks have spoiled us...the only snow we have is the old dirty banks piled up during November, December and January...we do sort of expect one last snowstorm, it wouldn't be St. Patrick's Day if we didn't get snow around his day...according to the calendar the 20th of March is the first day of spring...we can hardly wait, we have had spring like weather for so long now we have gotten used to it, and just the thought of flowers peeking through the ground and waiting for our first call from one of our readers that they have seen the first robin gives a person a new lease on life...something like the days when the sun shines, it seems like there are fewer problems than on dark and dreary days...

We attended the Rotary Club's Minstrel Show Friday evening and we must add that this one was one of the better performances we have attended...we pass out a few accolades to the group, the singers seemed to be in good voice...the walk ons gave spice to the show...and then there was Scurry and friend which cleaned up their jokes from some that we had heard...and then we must add, the ol' fella was real happy that the club continued to go co-ed for the evening...the young chicks added something special...it was fun...and then to top the evening off, Art Weideman was presented the Paul Harris Fellow award for his dedication and work for the club...we wish to add our congratulations to Art...

We do not condone the drinking driver being on the road like everyone else, but we think it is going a bit too far when police are given the privilege to stop all cars on the highway which is being advocated at this time...this is but one more freedom the state would be taking away from all persons...to us it smacks of the old WCTU days which also brought on more crime and corruption than what we have today...bring back your prohibition and this country will have more Al Capone's and bath tub gin than one thought existed...take something away from an individual and they want it that much more...we do not feel that the state should be able to stop every car that is on the highway, we have always been under the opinion that this is a free country whereby an individual may travel as they see fit...if the governing bodies wish to add more penalties to the drinking driver sobeit...but stopping every car brings back the thought of the Gestapo in Germany during World War II when the police ruled everyone's lives...what will be the next step the state will take?...it is something to think about...before it is ruled on...

An idle thought...It has become evident the political world has come out of hibernation and the mud is beginning to be tossed in faces of the aspirants for the top office in the land...it is only primary time...and this tomfoolery will last until November...right now it is between individuals in the same party...wait until the candidates are picked...then the eggs will really be tossed and the poor voters will have to decide which is the worst of the two evils...not only that but all the good programs (if there are any) will be pre-empted by the all mighty dollar of the candidate that wants to tell you why you should vote for him because the other fellow will lead you to destruction...or possibly the end of the world...

This turkey was put together Sunday afternoon, and Sunday night we received a slight covering of snow and Monday morning we received a call that the first robin had been sighted...now all we need is Spring...this takes care of this week's efforts so will bid T.J., Stefany and Amber goodnight and to all of our readers do have a nice weekend...

The Bible Speaks

From Calvary Baptist Church

Are Non-humanists Crazy?

"Every child in America entering school at the age of five is mentally ill, because he comes to school with certain allegiances toward our founding fathers, toward our elected officials, toward his parents, toward a belief in a supernatural Being, toward the sovereignty of this nation as a separate entity." This statement was made at a childhood education seminar by a professor of Education and Psychiatry in the Faculty of Medicine and Graduate School of Education, Harvard University.

To paraphrase this statement by a leading humanist, "Every child who is taught to love and respect his country, his family, and his faith, is crazy!" This educator went on to say, "It's up to you teachers to make all of these sick children well by creating the international children of the future."

Humanists hate patriotism. In their own words from Humanist Manifesto II: "We deplore the division of humankind on nationalistic grounds." Humanists hate family values like sexual purity and sanctity of human life. In their own words, "In the area of sexuality, we believe that intolerant attitudes, often cultivated by orthodox religions and puritanical cultures, unduly repress sexual conduct. The right to birth control, abortion, and divorce should be recognized... The many varieties of sexual exploration should not in themselves be considered 'evil'."

Humanists hate the God of the Bible. "As nontheists, we begin with humans not God, nature not deity." A theist is one who believes in a god or gods. A nontheist is one who does not believe in a god or gods. A nontheist could be either an atheist who denies the existence of a god or gods, or an agnostic who denies one can know a god or gods exist. When humanists use the term god, they are referring to natural beings or a god concept. They reject all metaphysical possibility of a supernatural God. In their own words, "We find insufficient evidence for belief in the existence of a supernatural..."

Not only have Humanists declared all of our children "mentally ill" because of traditional values concerning God, home, and country, but they are branding all critics of their literature as neurotic or psychotic. Harvard psychologist B.F. Skinner has written: "A literature of freedom may inspire a sufficiently fanatical opposition to controlling practices to generate a neurotic if not psychotic response. There are signs of emotional instability in those who have been deeply affected by the literature."

The next step for Humanists may be reminiscent of Ward 7 in Russia. They may push to put Bible Christians in a mental hospital for deviant political views, without a trial and without a sentence, as long as the humanist state declares them insane. (Adv.)

To Mark,
March eleventh will soon be here;
That age of 40 that all of us fear.
He loves to camp with his old pickup truck;
Thanks to the Lord, he's not been stuck.
Of his beer, he loves to swill;
But on occasion has suffered a spill.
But to the spill he responds with finesse;
And adds even more, to the mess.
In Toronto, for whiskey you order rye;
We found this to be true, you and I.
In the Milltown Run he didn't wish to be last;
So he decided to run so very fast.
He tried so hard but couldn't stick;
The extra effort made him quite sick.
Turning 40 is not cause for tears;
Come on, have fun, your remaining years.
We've had good friendship - so witty and alive;
After this poem, we hope it will survive.

Happy 40th Birthday Mark !!!

Sanctions May Be Imposed Over Welfare Error Rates

Warren M. Hoyt, Executive Director, MPA

Michigan's error rate in aid to families with dependent children (AFDC) payments and food stamp programs is on the rise at a time when federal standards are dropping, with the result being that the state faces a threat of up to $45 million in federal sanctions for the past two years.

And while Department of Social Services officials said they have instituted some programs to reduce errors, a major source of errors is the heavy workload for caseworkers, a situation which they said will not be helped much by Governor James Blanchard's tight budget proposal for fiscal year 1984-85.

Although threatened once before, sanctions have never been imposed against Michigan for welfare payment errors.

Food stamp program errors also exceed federal guidelines, but are a lesser problem, while the Medicaid program is below standards.

Federal officials have not yet notified the state sanctions would be imposed, but Clyde Downing, regional family assistance administrator in Chicago for the U.S. Dept. of Health and Human Services, said a decision regarding the 1981-82 year is "not too far away."

However, he said that even though the error rate exceeds federal standards, a waiver could be offered, for such reasons as making a good faith effort.

James Ellis, director of the DSS Office of Quality Assurance, said the state could be hit with a $15 million sanction for 1981-82 and probably a sanction in the range of $30 million for 1982-83, just for the AFDC program.

The federal target error rate - the percentage of funds made for overpaid or ineligible payments - was 5.7 percent in 1982-83, while the state registered an 8.8 percent error rate in the first six months of the year. The figures for the second six months are not yet official, but Ellis said they are "up substantially."

"We are absolutely going the wrong way," Ellis said, noting the federal target rate drops to 4 percent in 1983-84. He said the state hit its lowest error rate for AFDC payments in 1980-81 at 7.1 percent when former DSS Director John Dempsey made accuracy the number one priority. At that time, the federal standard was 7.3 percent.

Harold Gazan, director of the department's Special Services Administration, said department workers have been reduced by 15 percent over the past four years while caseloads have increased 52 percent. He said errors due to staff mistakes, as opposed to errors because of errant information from clients, relate more to overwork than to anything else.

Ellis said in recent reviewing periods, staff errors have accounted for about half, or more than half, of the payment mistakes and added that's the first time that's ever happened. Historically, he said, staff mistakes account for only about one third of the errors.

Other factors, he noted, include policy changes and the complexity of the program itself.

Downing said he recognized the difficulty of meeting the error rate standard, and said Michigan is "very serious about trying to reduce errors."

He said members of Congress are raising questions about imposing sanctions based on target error rates, but that question is not resolved.

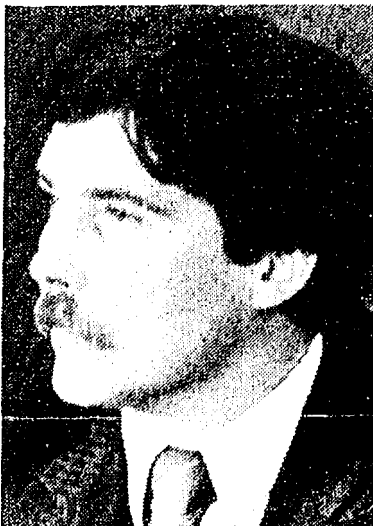

And while the state programs to reduce errors offer some hope for the future, he said in the interim, "Michigan may have a problem" with sanctions.

By Sharon Prislipski
Imagine that you were hired to do a technical job for which you had no background or experience. Each day you would report promptly to the factory or office and then wonder how to complete your work. At first you would try hard. You would watch your co-workers and try to follow their lead. But you would make mistakes - lots of them. The supervisor would become frustrated. He would, of course, try to help but because you have no previous training you would have great difficulty following his directions. Your fellow workers would become annoyed and make fun of you. Eventually you would quit; that is, if you were not fired first.

This is much like what happens to the child who enters school before he is ready. All children develop at different rates. One may walk at one year of age while another may not have this physical ability until fifteen months. One child may be ready for kindergarten at age five while another may need an extra year to grow and mature. Both are within normal development limits.

But, let's consider what happens to the child who enters school without the necessary readiness skills. Like the unprepared worker, Roscommon attorney, Jerry Brabant, became the first Democrat to make his candidacy official for the Michigan House of Representatives, 103rd District.

The new 103rd House District encompasses Crawford, Charlevoix, Kalkaska and parts of Antrim, Emmet and Roscommon Counties.

Brabant, 36, presently resides in Lyon Township, Roscommon County, Michigan, with his wife, Constance. His education includes a Bachelors degree in Business Administration from Western Michigan University and a Juris Doctor degree from the University of Detroit School of Law.

Brabant was employed as a Michigan Senate Legislative Aide and a Senate Transportation Committee Aide in 1980 and 1981 and brings legislative experience to his candidacy.

Mr. Brabant is a Vietnam Veteran and has an acute awareness of the issues of concern to all veterans.

In addition to his law practice, Brabant was an Assistant Prosecutor in Ogemaw County and is currently the Vice President and President Elect of the 34th Judicial Circuit Bar Association.

Brabant's community affiliations include membership in the Lions Club, the American Legion, the Veterans of foreign Wars and the Vietnam Veterans of America. He is also an adjunct instructor at Kirtland Community College, Roscommon, Michigan.

he will feel enormous stress when asked to perform tasks that are beyond his present ability. It is only a matter of time until this youngster begins to develop a picture of himself as "dumb" or "incapable". Such early school frustration or failure can have lifelong effects on the child.

Researchers tell us that children under this type of stress often develop school related emotional problems. Symptoms may include crying or stomach aches on school days that miraculously disappear before noon. Some children even develop real physical problems such as ulcers. Perhaps worst of all some youngsters continue for the next ten or twelve years with an unnecessarily negative view of their school abilities.

Early school failure can be prevented. Each spring the C.O.O.R. Special Education Staff works with your local elementary school to find prospective kindergartners who are at risk of not being developmentally ready. The screening does not reveal the child's IQ or any special talents. It simply detects developmental problems that may exist. It is then up to the parents and the local school to decide together what steps might be taken to provide the readiness training.

To find out when Kindergarten Screening is scheduled in your school district, contact your local elementary principal. If you would like more information about the screening we do or how the results are used, call Sharon Prislipsky at 275-5137. We want to answer your questions. We care about kids!

Grayling Elementary School

On Thursday afternoon, Mr. Bovee came in Mrs. Bovee's class and talked about juveniles. He talked about child abuse, running away, rules for people, and incorrigibles. He also talked about some more stuff. We all enjoyed it a lot. He is a Juvenile Officer for Crawford County and he talked about adoptions and delinquents. We asked him questions and he answered them. It was lots of fun having Mr. Bovee here. By Tanya Johnson, 5th grade.

To celebrate George Washington's birthday, Mrs. Ingvarsson's class will be eating a cherry pie Friday, February 24, 1984. The pie will be made by Mrs. Dunkley, the mother of Brian Dunkley, a member of the class.

Mrs. Ingvarsson's class also made a colorful zoo poster to decorate the hall.

Students also were working on a Number Challenge, a booklet filled with 10 pages of graph paper. The object was to write to a thousand. Students who accomplished this feat are going to be treated by Mrs. Ingvarsson. They will be taken to McDonald's Friday, February 24, for ice cream sundaes after school. I WORRY ABOUT GRANDPA.

He seems to be taking Grandma's death hard.

Some sociologists suggest that because of their age older people may be more prepared for death. That may be so; but it really isn't much consolation when a loved one dies. In fact, many older people may be more lonely because they may have fewer friends and they may have limited ability to get out and around. They may have fewer options for social life and outside activities. It may even be hard to get to church. Older people may not wish to ask for help because they are afraid of imposing. Your offer of a ride to the store, a visit to a friend or church, help in straightening out paperwork or help with some household chores will often be happily accepted. While you are with them make it a point to listen if they wish to tell you about their loss. You cannot make grief go away but you can help make it easier to bear.

No doubt most of us have found a Petoskey stone at one time, but once found, what is to be done with it? Since they are fairly soft, they can be cut with a hacksaw and shaped with steel files. To polish, start with a coarse grade of wettable sandpaper and rub until the stone is smooth. Then use 220, 320, 400, and 600 grit grades of sandpaper until a luster appears. A final rubbing with a piece of wool felt will further enhance the intricate patterns in the stone.

The Petoskey Stone was made our state stone a number of years back, but the Petoskey stones and their near relatives, the Alpena stones, were formed about 400 million years ago in the shallow salt seas which then covered Michigan. They were formed by coral-creating polyps which formed six-sided shells for themselves out of limestone (calcium carbonate) and they did this in huge colonies. After the polyps died, the walls were left to be filled by more limestone. On the west side of the state, this limestone filling was usually brownish dolomite; on the east side it was grayish calcite, which accounts for the differences in color of the two stones.

Whatever their origin, the Petoskey and Alpena stones can be found in the gravel pits of this area and, of course, along many beach areas in the northern lower peninsula.

To Offer Art Classes at Gaylord

Sault Ste. Marie - Prof. Eugene Jemison of Lake Superior State College will present two art classes in Gaylord beginning Wednesday, March 14. "Drawing and Composition" and "Advanced Watercolor" will each meet for three hours Wednesdays for ten weeks.

Those who completed Prof. Jemison's beginning courses in drawing or watercolor in the winter term may continue their studies, as may new students who have had previous art experience.

The drawing course meets from 2 to 5 p.m. in the Gaylord High School Vocation Building nursing room; the watercolor course from 7 to 10 p.m. in room eight, the art room.

"The drawing and composition course," Prof. Jemison said, "is for experienced and advanced art students. It will provide concentrated instruction in such drawing media as pencil, charcoal, and ink wash on various papers."

"We will have problems in object drawing, still life, landscape, textile, and drawing from imagination and memory. We'll study specific components of drawing, such as perspective, proportion, lines, shapes, and values."

"Students will receive individual instruction in design, composition and media techniques."

"The advanced watercolor course provides individual instruction to students with prior watercolor training, using nature, still life, figure and imagination as source material."

"Emphasis will be on visual perception and the formal elements of watercolor painting."

"We will study the structural and color principles by which great paintings are organized."

Students may enroll by mail, sending a registration form available at many area banks, or writing a letter to the Continuing Education Department, LSSC, Sault Ste. Marie, Mi. 49783. Information to be included in the letter may be obtained by phoning, toll free, 1-800-682-4800 and asking for Marsha Barrett or Jessica Stanaway.

A Symbol of Personal Responsibility

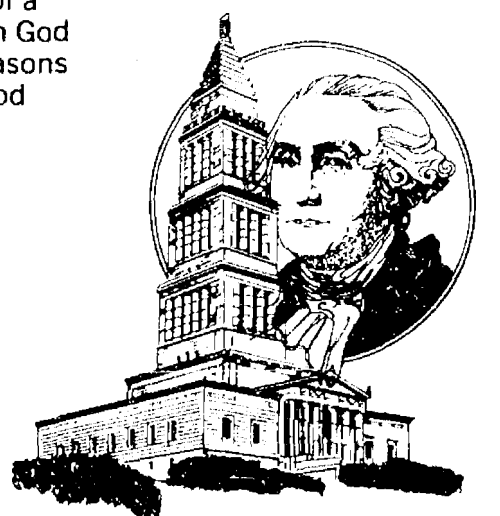

The best known symbol of Freemasonry ... the nation's oldest and largest charitable fraternity ... the "Square and Compasses."

The 3 1/2 million Masons in the United States use the tools of the medieval stonemasons, the builders of the great Gothic Cathedrals. They are reminders of a Mason's duty to live by the highest moral standards, to practice brotherly love, and to affirm loyalty to his country.

Masons believe that the quality of a man's life should reflect his faith in God and his ethical ideals. Although Masons do not solicit members, men of good character may ask to become members.

American Legion
Auxiliary News

by Laurie Jensen,
P.R. Director

On Wednesday, March 14 at 7:30 p.m. will be our monthly meeting. I hope that many of you ladies will come out for the meeting and see what we have coming up in the near future. We need your support.

Last week I told you that we need to bring a dish to pass at our Legion Birthday Party, later in the week the decision was made to have some of the ladies do the cooking down at the post. So ladies, forget the dish to pass and come down and enjoy this annual party. The cost is $5.00 for members and senior citizens and $7.00 for non-members. This includes your refreshments!! When have you been able to go out and have a good time for such a low price? Hope to see you there!

Everyone that attended our District Meeting in Midland on Saturday had a very enjoyable time and learned quite a lot.

Our poppy seals are in and they will be distributed at our next meeting. We need all of the support on selling these that we can get.

Bingo has done some changes in their payoffs. Why not stop in on Thursday evening and find out what we did. We also could use more bingo workers...

Please remember that we do have a hall to rent. We have newer cooks and they are good. Our auxiliary could use some catering jobs. We like to keep in practice.

The question of the week is: What was Goldie (Moore) Livrance doing on October 31, 1966 and where was she?

Until next time...Have a Nice Day!

So bring a piece of glassware that you know to be old - perhaps something your Mother or Grandmother passed down to you - and Shirley will try to tell us something about it.

Once again, we'll meet at the Center's main dining room at 308 Lawndale, and the number to call for additional information is 348-9314.

Reynolds Earns Trip To Jr. National Ski Races In Washington, Mar. 10-18

Karyn Reynolds placed first and second in two giant slalom races at the Central United States Ski Association Championships at Spirit Mountain in Duluth, Minnesota, Feb. 29 - Mar. 3, helping her qualify for the Junior Nationals. Reynolds became the first girl racer out of seven to qualify from the central division after placing first and second in giant slalom and fourth and fifth in slalom. In the first of the two giant slalom races, Reynolds beat out Patty Stone, of Minneapolis, who finished in the top five of the 1983 Junior Nationals. In the second giant slalom race, Stone beat out Reynolds by .05 seconds after Reynolds had recorded the fastest run of the day in the first of the two runs. In the two slalom races won by Stone and Missy Cool, a 21-year-old top ranked skier from Minneapolis, Reynolds' fourth and fifth place finishes combined with her giant slalom win and second place gave her runner-up honors in the Carrather Cup Competition covering all four days of racing. The Central Division Championships were the last of five Mid-America Series races that started in December. In addition to the Division Championships, there were races held at Boyne Mountain, Pine Mountain near Iron Mountain, Mich.,

Indianhead near Ironwood, Mich., and Spirit Mountain, for a total of five giant slalom and eight slalom races. Besides the first place finish in the championships, Reynolds took first in slalom at Indianhead. Reynolds finished third overall in points for the Mid-America Series. Stone won the Series. Another Michigan Huron Shores Conference racer, Marlee Brown, of Petoskey, was the sixth out of seventh qualifiers for the Jr. Nationals from the Central Division. The Central Division covers eleven states with most of the racers coming from Minnesota, Wisconsin, Illinois, and Michigan.

Bradshaw finished second in the state.

Tim Moore and Barsie Cross finished in the top eighth in the state in Class C. Moore won two and lost two to finish his year at 36-12 wrestling at 119 pounds. Cross also won two and lost two to 38-6 wrestling at 167 pounds. Tom Sorenson, wrestling heavyweight, won one match and lost two in the finals to finish his year at 30-4. Improvements (Continued from Page 1)

Manistique. Customers may become frustrated by their inability to resolve problems with their phone service, and so General Telephone established a new bureau last March to clear up unsolved and difficult telephone problems. The bureau, called "Action Line," assists customers who have exhausted the normal complaint procedures. "While we were busy making these improvements we were also very heavily involved in making a smooth transition to a deregulated, competitive environment," Kowalski said. "The first major step occurred January 1, 1983, when we began offering new telephone equipment and associated gear (called customer premises equipment) on an unregulated basis. This meant customers could continue to lease their telephones from General Telephone or buy them from us or from other sources." "The important message we tried to convey to customers was that they could assume as much responsibility for the purchase and maintenance of telephone equipment as they choose," Kowalski said. The $10.2 million service improvement and expansion program for the northern division was part of a $53.4 million statewide effort by General Telephone.

Chamber Chatter

By Joyce Kolka

Word has been received that the new date for the Artrain in Grayling is March 31-April 4.

Word coming back from the Chamber travel Booth at the Outdoorama Show in Detroit is that there was a good crowd over the first weekend, but one would imagine that the weather for those next few days would tend to hamper the attendance. Chamber members manning the travel booth this year were Mr. & Mrs. Allen Carr of Carr's Pioneer Canoe Livery, Dr. Paul Junttila and Fred Tremblay of AuSable-Manistee Realty, Don Geiss and yours truly and husband from the chamber staff. A big thanks for a job well done.

A goodly number of chamber members turned out last Thursday for Mac's Grand Opening of their new Film Developing service and carry out Liquor Department. It truly is a good omen to see one of Grayling's older businesses expanding in the downtown area. Much success is wished for Larry and Moe McNamara and family in their new business ventures.

A trip to the new chamber office last week showed many hours of labor spent on three coats of paint on the walls and ceiling and shelves fitted for the storage areas. It should be ready for moving into by late May. The building trades class, supervised by Mr. Dale Lesh appear to be very much on schedule and are doing an excellent job.

Milltown Arts and Crafts chairman, Nancy Hatfield, has informed the committee that it will be held in the city park this year on July 27th and 28th. Last year's participants will be receiving information in the mail within the next few weeks. Anyone interested in acquiring booth space may contact Nancy by writing to her at R. 1, Box 1488, Grayling or phone 348-9769.

A reminder to everyone that any community calendar item must be called into the chamber office by Thursday morning, the week prior to printing. Please call us at 348-2921 and let us know what is happening with your club or organization.

COMMISSION ORDER NO. CFI-112.82

(Under authority of Act 230, P.A. 1925, as amended)

OPEN SEASONS AND CATCH LIMITS ON

PIKE, WALLEYE, SAUGER AND MUSKELLUNGE

The Natural Resources Commission, at its meeting on October 8, 1982, under the authority of Act 230, P.A. 1925, as amended, ordered the following order become effective on January 1, 1983, and remain valid until March 31, 1988.

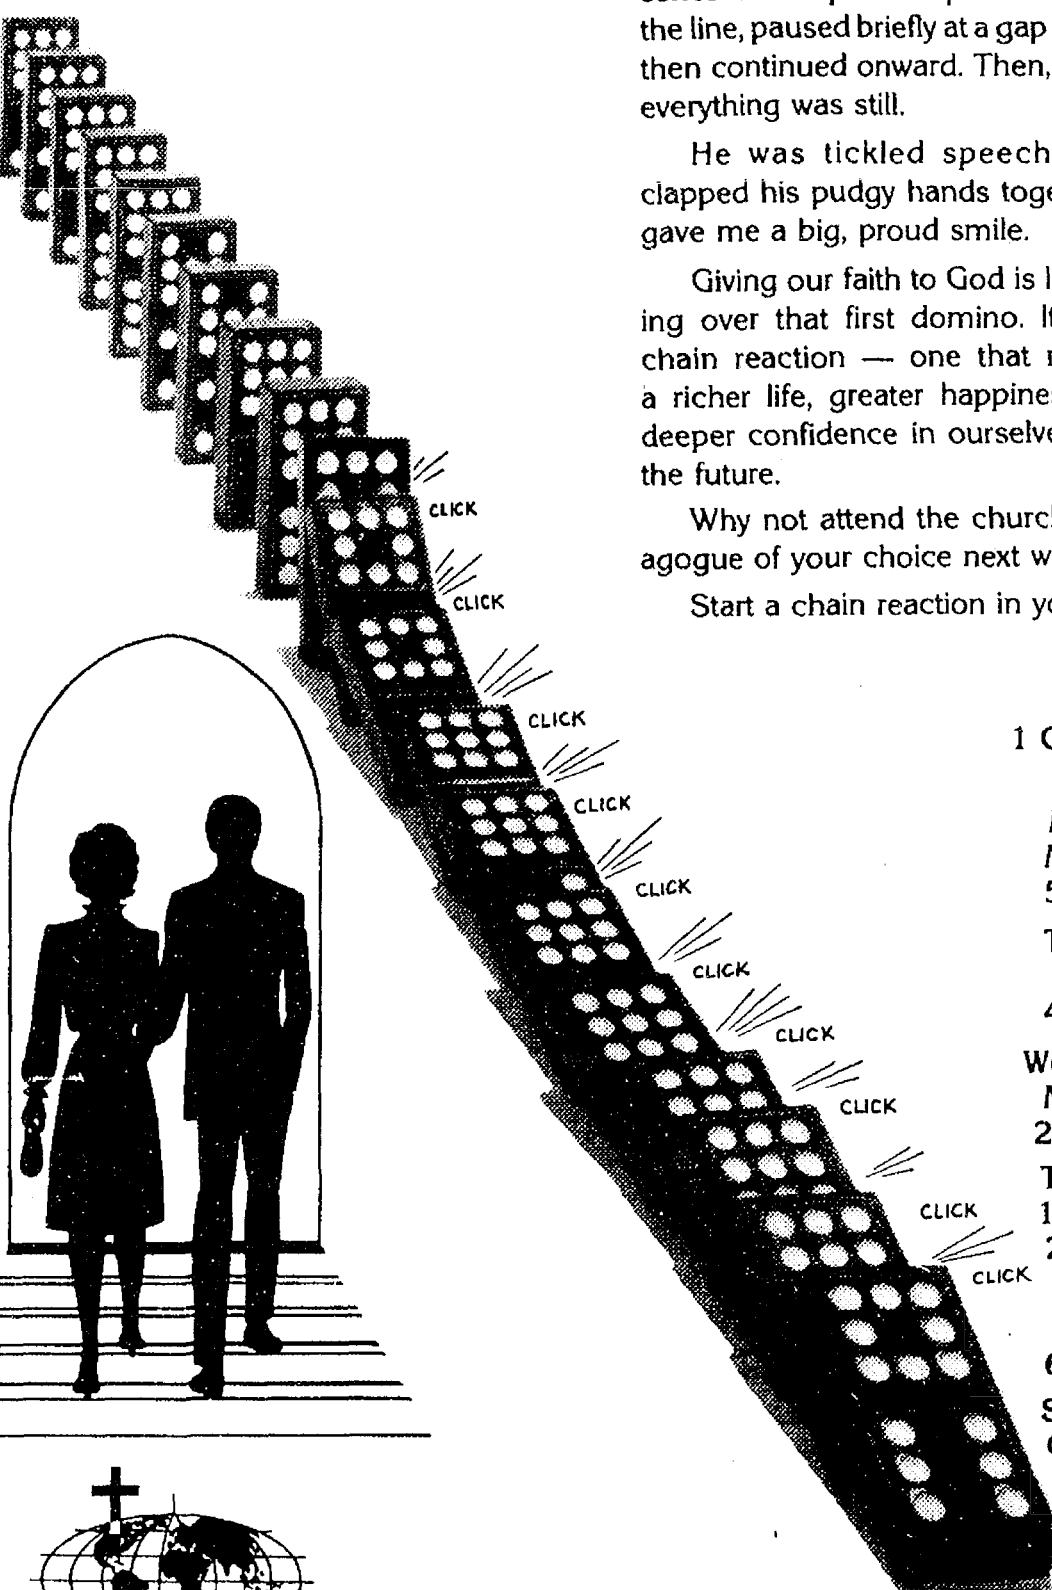

It shall be unlawful to take the following named species except within the open seasons and daily limits prescribed (statewide regulations apply unless otherwise restricted):

Statewide open seasons on all waters not otherwise closed to fishing shall be from May 15 through February on walleye, sauger, northern pike, and muskellunge (including tiger muskellunge). The daily catch limit shall be five singly or in combination for largemouth and smallmouth bass, walleye, sauger, and northern pike; one for muskellunge (including tiger muskellunge).

The above regulations apply statewide except that walleye and sauger may be taken at any time from the Detroit and St. Clair rivers, Lake St. Clair, and Lake Erie; and that muskellunge in Lake St. Clair, St. Clair and Detroit rivers may be taken only from the first Saturday in June through December 15 of each year. CHAIN REACTION

With great ceremony, the boy gave the lead domino a gentle poke. A rapid series of sharp clicks proceeded down the line, paused briefly at a gap too large, then continued onward. Then, abruptly, everything was still.

He was tickled speechless. He clapped his pudgy hands together and gave me a big, proud smile.

Giving our faith to God is like pushing over that first domino. It starts a chain reaction — one that results in a richer life, greater happiness and a deeper confidence in ourselves and in the future.

Why not attend the church or synagogue of your choice next week.

Start a chain reaction in your life.

THE BURTON ABSTRACT DIV.

OF FIRST AMERICAN TITLE

Boy Scout 997 News

On Monday evening, Feb. 27, Troop 997 held their Boy Scout Recognition Banquet at the Mt. Hope Lutheran Church. Eight scouts were present, along with families, various troop leaders, and their families. Also attending was Cubmaster Larry Aheare, along with several members of Webelos Pack 3983.

Anna Heatherington, District Executive of the Lake Huron Council, was present to solicit donations that would aid in paying each boy's membership fee into the Boy Scouts of America.

A slide show was given to promote the Scouts attendance to summercamp. It was also mentioned that the Scouts could collect Glen's Green Slips to help pay for this weeklong campout.

And finally, the actual reason for the occasion, each scout was recognized for his Scouting accomplishments in the past three (not six) months, including Wayne Schnoonover, who recently achieved the rank of Eagle Scout. Certificates of Appreciation were given to Dan Kemp, Kevin Marculewicz, and Todd Pfaff for helping with the 1984 Klondike Derby and general support of Troop 997.

This week, the troop would like to extend their thanks to Mt. Hope Lutheran Church for allowing us to hold the banquet there.

We Know A Rich Uncle Who Will Help You Save For The Day You Retire.

Sooner or later, a time will come when you cash your last paycheck. A time when you can say you've worked hard and earned the right to relax. A time when you're going to need a substantial amount of money if you want to live comfortably. And we can help you get it — with Uncle Sam's help — if you put money away in one of our Individual Retirement Accounts.

You can open an IRA with as little as $50 or as much as $4000, depending on your marital status and spouse's income. But whatever you decide, your investment will reduce your gross income. Which means you'll pay less to the IRS. And, you'll get a larger refund back — as much as $2000, depending on your tax bracket.

Most important, we can offer several, competitive IRA investment options that can be tailored to your individual needs. All of them pay tax-deferred, Money Market rates. So your interest, and the interest on your interest, will continue to compound and pyramid with no taxes whatsoever, until you need the funds to live on.

They can grow at a dramatic pace. And as you watch them build, you know your money is safe and sound, because your IRA is government-insured.

Last, but not least, if you open your IRA before April 16, 1984, you can take the credit against your 1983 taxes. So talk to us the next time you're at the bank. Because everyone needs a break now and then. Especially where taxes are concerned. We'd like to help you get your share.

Students Invited To Beef It Up At MSU

Crawford County high school students are invited to 'Beef it Up' with the Michigan State University College of Agriculture and Natural Resources on March 21, at the MSU dairy teaching/research center on College Road, East Lansing. The event, featuring a beef barbecue, runs from 3:30 to 6:30 p.m.

"This event is an excellent opportunity for high school kids to learn about college programs designed to prepare them for dynamic careers in agriculture and natural resources," says Ann Stephenson, 4-H Program Assistant.

The MSU Department of Animal Science is hosting this special event, which will be held during Farmer's Week and Natural Resources Days. Departmental faculty members will be on hand to talk about possible majors, and educational exhibits will be on display.

Though the event is free, students should make reservations to attend. Contact Dan Eversole, MSU Department of Animal Science, 124 Anthony HALL, East Lansing, MI. 48824 by March 7.

Women's Group To Meet

American Association of University Women, Roscommon and Gaylord Branch will meet March 15, at 7:30 p.m. in the Grayling High School Library. The speaker, Emma Williams will be speaking about the National Education Association.

March is National Nutrition Month

Wellness and preventive medicine have become household terms in today's fast moving society. More emphasis is placed on keeping well than at any other point in history.

Good eating habits and sensible exercise are two critical components in keeping well and staying well. Sloppy habits in our early years tend to linger on into adulthood and settle into often irreversible behavior patterns.

Good health habits should be started early. March is National Nutrition Month and Mercy Hospital has put together a two-hour discussion class aimed at starting kids early with good eating and exercise habits.

"Dressing Your Child From the Inside Out," is the title of this one-time offering scheduled for March 27, at 7 p.m. in the Mercy Hospital dining area. Cheryl Melroy, registered dietician and Rick Febey, physical therapist will be the principal speakers.

Mrs. Melroy will be speaking on eating habits and providing nutritious foods to develop children. Mr. Febey will demonstrate exercises parents can use on their infants and children to enhance their coordination and help them develop sound bodies.

No registration is necessary for this free class. Anyone interested in these topics are encouraged to attend. More information is available from the Education office at Mercy Hospital, 348-5461, ext. 172.

Nature Trail Open at KCC

With the winter months drawing to an end, Kirtland Community College wishes to remind area residents their Fitness-Nature trail is open, free of charge, to all students, community members, and the general public.

The 1¼-mile trail, with 20 exercise stations, is designed for all persons interested in getting, or staying, in shape. Thirty two exercises are set at both beginning and advanced levels. Heartbeat monitoring stations are also installed, so persons may determine their targeted heart rate at intervals along the trail. Or, persons can just walk the trail, enjoying nature and a leisurely stroll.

The trail begins behind the College's library building and meanders through the heavily wooded campus.
